Three Historic Houses Available for Relocation and Restoration

The three buildings, belonging to Alameda County's mid-19th century farm period, are considered to be historic and potentially eligible for listing in the California Register of Historic Resources. All are in a state of considerable deterioration and are available as-is, at the cost of $1.00 to any individual or organization who will commit to relocating and restoring them at its own expense and reusing them for any purpose. The buildings are currently located on cribbing, ready for relocation, at the Ardenwood Regional Preserve, 34600 Ardenwood Boulevard, Fremont, California.

The buildings are:

The Brown House: 2-story, 3 room.

The Bettencourt House: 2-story, 4 br, 1 ba, LR, DR, brick fireplace.

The Mowry Schoolhouse: 1-story, 2 br., 1 ba., LR, DR.
